

International Master of Fine Art

Regulations for American Students Applying for Chinese-American Government Scholarship Program

The China Academy of Art, formerly the National Academy of Arts, was established in 1928 as a center for specialist studies in the Fine Arts. The Academy is located in Hangzhou, the capital of Zhejiang province, which is one of China's most economically and culturally developed provinces. The Nanshan Campus sits beside the West Lake, Xiangshan Campus at the foot of the Xiangshan Mountain. Tranquil and visually exquisite, it is an ideal setting for the practice and study of the Arts. The Academy's seven specialist schools for studio arts, design, inter-media, public art, animation, architecture and for art and the humanities, all presently accept International Students for Master and PhD study. At present, nearly 700 international students from 90 countries are studying at the Academy.
